Journal of Peace and Unification: FORMAT OF MANUSCRIPT

1. MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS

- Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not own copyright, to be used in both print and electronic media, and for ensuring that appropriate acknowledgement is included in their manuscript.
- Please send a cover letter with the corresponding author's name, institution, title, address, telephone/fax number, and email address; the manuscript title; and other important information.
- Manuscripts should be sent via email to tongilej@ewha.ac.kr. Only MS-Word, Times New Roman 12-pt, double-spaced format is acceptable.
- The journal accepts a manuscript on the understanding that its content is original and that it had not been submitted or accepted for publication elsewhere. Once accepted for publication, copyright resides with the journal. Submitted manuscripts will not be returned.

2. RESEARCH ETHIC RULES

Article I (objectives)

The fundamental objectives of the Research Ethics Rules (the Rules hereafter) shall be to prevent unjust ethical conduct by the authors of Journal of Peace and Unification (JPU hereafter).

investigation.

Article VII (effective period)

The Rules are effective as of Aug 11, 2011.

Article VIII (revision of the Rules)

The Rules can be revised at the discretion of the Editorial Board of the JPU.

3. MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

All pages should be double-spaced (including references) with 1-inch margins on all sides and must not exceed 8,000 words including references, tables, and appendices. Your manuscript should be separated by (1) title and abstract, (2) text with endnotes, (3) references, (4) tables, (5) figures or illustrations, and (6) appendices.

- 1) The title and the abstract should be on one page. The abstract should not exceed 120 words. This page should not contain any indication of the identification of the author(s). Below the abstract, include a list of five or more keywords that represent your article.

- 2) The text of the article.

(A) Hierarchy of headings and subheadings are typed in bold. Headings are typed in full upper case letters. Subheadings are italicized and typed in lower case letters with the first letter in upper case. Headings should be numbered by Roman numerals I II III ...; subheadings by 1, 2, 3, ...; (1), (2), (3), ...; then A, B, C,

(B) Tables and figures should be arranged in the text properly and the source should indicate below the table or figure.

(C) For references in the text, please follow the examples below:

- If the author's name is in the text, follow with the year and page number (if directly cited) in parentheses: Smith (1989) or Smith (1989, 164). If the author's name is not in the text, enclose the last name and year in parentheses, and, if necessary, page number: (Goulder 1963, 120-122).
- Give both last names for joint authors: (Smith and Goulder 1988).
- Separate a series of references with a semicolon: (Gibson and Bingham 1985; Gross and Kinder 1996; Marcus et al. 1995).
- If a source is cited more than once in a paragraph, give the year and page number for the first citation, but only the page numbers for subsequent citations: ... Julia Annas (1976, 181), then ... (185).
- For institutional authorship, supply minimum identification from the complete citation: (U.S. Bureau of the Census 1963, 117).
- For unpublished materials, use "forthcoming" to indicate materials scheduled for publication. For dissertations and unpublished papers, cite the date. If no date, place "n.d." in place of the date: ... Smith (forthcoming) and Jones (n.d.).
- Put a period at the end of the sentence. If the parentheses are end of the sentence put the period after the parentheses: . (Kim 2007) → (Kim 2007).

3) Endnotes should be located below the context by necessary, and be kept to a minimum, three sentence, at most. The format of endnotes should be same as the format of reference in text.
